DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following invention is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, drawn to a method for training a time-domain equalizer having at least one coefficient comprising steps of estimating a channel; initializing the at least one coefficient of the time-domain equalizer; updating the at least one coefficient with the estimated channel; retaining the updated estimated channel; fixing the updated value of the at least one coefficient; calculating a modulated symbol based on the output of the equalizer; calculating the second value for the estimated channel; setting the estimated channel to the second value; and repeating the steps till a predetermined condition is reached, classified in class 375, subclass 229.
- II. Claims 5-16, drawn to an asymmetric digital subscriber line system comprising a channel for receiving the transmitted signal; a target channel for receiving the transmitted signal; two mixers coupled to the channel; a time-domain equalizer including plurality of coefficient coupled to the first mixer; a modulator; and a channel estimator, classified in class 375, subclass 222.
- III. Claims 17-27, drawn to a discrete multi-tone transceiver comprising a calculating means for estimating an effective channel in the frequency domain; an inverse Fast Fourier Transform means; and a rectangular windowing means, classified in class 375, subclass 260.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II, I and III, and II and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP 806.05 c).

In the case of inventions I and II, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of subcombination as claimed as shown by the lack of details in claim 5 of a time-domain equalizer to receive the output of the first mixer. The subcombination has separate utility such as minimizing frequency weighted ISI (i.e. Intersymbol Interference) power. In case of inventions I and III, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed as shown by the lack of details in claim 1 of the discrete multi-tone transceiver. The subcombination has separate utility such as minimizing frequency weighted ISI (i.e. Intersymbol Interference) power. In case of inventions II and III, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed as shown by the lack of details in claim 17 of the discrete multi-tone transceiver. The subcombination has separate utility such as DMT modulation in wireline applications.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, the search required for Group III is not required for Groups I or II, the search required for Group II is not required for Groups I and III, and the search required for Group III is not required for Groups I and II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Mr. Italiano (202) 408-4000 in February 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
